

4-H

Making the Best Better

4-H is a non-formal educational program for young people to help them learn, develop life skills and form attitudes that enable them to become self-directing, productive, and contributing members of society.

The program combines the cooperative efforts of youth, volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, federal, state, local governments and the CSREES of the United States Department of Agriculture.

4-H offers youth opportunities in communications, leadership, career development, livestock, home improvement, and computer technology. Programs are found in rural and urban areas throughout the world. The program is instrumental in building life skills in youth and making our communities better places to live and work. 4-H will continue to grow and develop with the head, heart, hands, and health of youth around the world.

Youth participating in 4-H programs gain valuable leadership skills, develop their decision-making capabilities, increase their appreciation for community service, and learn to set goals, plan projects, and solve problems. 4-H provides a service-learning environment where youth learn to communicate more effectively and are motivated to make a difference today and tomorrow.

HELPING CREATE A PATH TO OUR FUTURE

"The future is not some place we are going, but one we are creating. The paths to it are not found but made, and the activity of making them changes both the maker and the destination."
